

Floral Icing For Your Wedding Cake

Contributed by Webmaster
Thursday, 18 March 2010
Last Updated Thursday, 18 March 2010

who declared that you can decorate your wedding cake with cherries and chocolate dressings alone? You can give a floral icing to your marriage cake as well with the help of fresh wedding flowers. Adding marriage flowers to your wedding cake will not just rev up the plain old idea of a wedding of a wedding cake, but it will also add a dash of freshness to it.

You've got the option to use real fresh flowers as the topping on your wedding cake but not all flowers will serve this purpose. For all their beauty, some flowers have toxic substances and aren't planned to be eaten. Examples of these dangerous flowers includes cala lily, tulip, and hydrangea. Search the Internet to find if the flower you need to put on your cake is safe or not before you put it on the cake.

If you have decided to use flowers as the icing on your marriage cake, you have 2 options to choose from. Either put freshly picked up flowers or contact the confectioner for sweetened flowers . Bakeries and confectioners have a tendency to keep flowers dipped in liquefied sugar which later forms a layer on flower when frozen. These are both more sturdy and shiny. The cake design looks what it was intended to look like, even if it is handled slightly rough.

Then again there are certain aesthetic concerns which needs to be addressed while using flowers to deco-rate wedding cake. Ensure that you select flowers that suit the overall decor as well as the color of cake. If you have a white cake, virtually each flower will do. Make a choice from roses, lilies, gerbera, daisies etc. For those who have selected a chocolate or any dark colored cake, the options are Amarylis and Allium. If you have an overall theme for the marriage, you've got to ensure that the flowers gel properly with that.

Using fresh marriage flowers is a creative way of doing up the wedding cake. And, you can make this even more creative by using wedding flowers in even more creative ways. You can make the whole cake tires, using fresh marriage flowers. A loosely hanging crescent formed bouquet from the top of the marriage cake to the bottom may also be a great idea. However, If you do not need to go very overboard then you can simply scatter loose flowers on the cake or place them meticulously in one corner of the cake.

If you want to give your cake a very natural feel; you can utilize some foliage and fresh leaves as well as wedding flowers. For this utilize leaves which are edible in nature. They are therefore very easy to add. Such floral icings turn out to be handy if you plan to have a theme of outside wedding.

If you want to make your marriage an experience to recollect, you can depend on floral icing on your marriage cake to do the job for you.

Internet Marketing